THOUSANDS SEE BOYS GO

Company G Departs for Camp McClellan at Anniston, Alabama, This Afternoon—Business in the City Practically Suspended While Big Procession Escorts Men to Train.

The armory on south Royal street was a busy place from the time the members of Company G, First Regiment of Virginia, better known locally as the Alexandria Light Infantry, arose this morning until they had finished packing their personal belongings and company luggage and had seen it safely started for the Union Station. But the work was done orderly and long before the noon hour everything but the men themselves was at the station ready for the train which was to take them out of the city at three o'clock this afternoon and carry them to Camp Geo. B. McClellan at Anniston, Alabama, which they will reach in about two days' time.

At Charlottesville, Va., which point they will arrive at tonight at 8:40 o'clock, they will be joined by Company D. At Covington Company H will be taken on with the Lynchburg Company L., at Lynchburg. The train which carries them will have six tourist sleepers, and one baggage car will be taken on here for Company G, while other baggage cars will be added for the other companies at the various stations as they reach them.

Most of the boys from Alexandria were anxious to get away as life was becoming more or less monotonous to them here, notwithstanding they had been kept busily engaged in drilling. The question as to how long they may be kept in camp McClellan at Anniston, Alabama, is problematical. Some are of the opinion that they may never see France for the reason that the war will be over before they are orderd to go there. All hope that may prove true, and that "our boys" will not be compelled to leave the United States. Be that as it may, they are ready to do their duty, and every resident of Alexandria will join the Gazette in wishing them a safe return to their homes whatever may be the outcome.

Escorted to Train by Big Crowd.

Business in the city was practically suspended from two until three o'clock this afternoon in order that all might escort the soldier boys to the train.

The procession, with Major Wm. H. Smith as marshal, was made up as follows: St. Asaph Military Camp band; Confederate Veterans of R. E. Lee Camp; High School Cadets; Boy Scouts; special escort of citizens led by Representative Carlin, Judge Louis C. Barley, Revs. E. V. Regester, E. B. Jackson, Louis Smet, John Lee Allison and business men, followed by Company G. The line of march was taken down Prince street to Fairfax, to King to Henry to Duke where the train stood in waiting. As the train pulled out whistles were blown all over the city by way of a salute to the 140 men and three officers who will do their duty and represent Alexandria in the war to "make the world safe for Democracy."

The streets were lined with people all the way to the station.

An immense crowd went to the armory to meet them, and at the station many hundreds more of the relatives, friends and citizens were congregated to bid them good by and wish them a safe return home again. Many earnest words were spoken and many a tear-dimmed eye was to be seen as the last handshake was given to husband, son, brother or sweetheart. If the train could have carried all the longing looks sent after it as it drew slowly away it would have carried a much larger load than it did.

Luncheons had been prepared for the boys by the ladies of the city so that they will have plenty to eat while on the road to Alabama, and cigars and other smoking materials were also provided for their comfort.

Before being mustered into the federal army, July 30th of the present year Company G was known as the Alexandria Light Infantry, and for many years was one of Virginia's crack military organizations. Many prominent and well known men of the city in years gone by were numbered among its officers and members. On May 14, 1898 the company left Alexandria for service in the Spanish American War under command of Major Wm. H. Smith, now postmaster of the city. Again on June 27, 1916, it departed for duty under command of Capt. Johnson at Brownsville, on the Texas border, returning late last fall. Concerning the wars of earlier days the records show that Alexandria men left their homes over a hundred years ago with General Braddock and were also engaged in the wars of 1812 and 1846 and again in 1861.

SEVEN SUNDAY DRUNKS

All But One, a White Woman, Forfeit Their Collateral by Failing to Appear in the Police Court.

The police arrested seven persons, white and colored, including a white woman, for being drunk on the streets yesterday.

The six men could not be found when their names were called in the Police Court this morning. The woman, who had been kept in an upper room, was brought in. The officer who made the arrest stated that he found her in a King street lunch room. It was also stated by the officer that she was a resident of Del Ray. Justice Caton ordered that she be returned to that place.

Warner Johnson, colored, was charged with assaulting Milton Tabbs, colored, with a bottle. After having been arrested the accused left collateral for his appearance. He responded when his name was called this morning, but the complainant was not on hand, and the hearing of the case was continued until next Wednesday.

A white youth named Jesse Gilmartin was charged with stealing a blanket and selling it for fifty cents. He alleged in his defense that the blanket was given to him by an unknown man who requested him to sell it. Gilmartin was fined $5, and should he fail to pay the assessment, he will spend the next twenty days in jail.

Charles Price, who was before United States Commissioner Mankin Saturday to answer the charge of failing to register, was brought to the station house by Deputy United States Marshal Schoenl, where he will be detained until tomorrow, when he will be brought before the United States District Court.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

Miss Margaret Smith, of 510 Wolfe street, who has been visiting in Warrenton, returned home today.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Insco, of La Plata, Md., accompanied by their brother-in-law and grandson, Master Ruey Wedding, have been guests of Mrs. Julian Rawlett on north Pitt street.

The old hospital building on Wolfe street was thoroughly fumigated Saturday night under the supervision of Dr. E. A. Gorman of the city health department, for the purpose of getting it in readiness to be opened as a boarding house. The work of changing and making necessary alterations to the interior has been placel in charge of Julian D. Knight and the cleaning up of the building completed it will be opened under the management of Mr. S. G. Loeffler of Washington.

In the first game of the series for the city baseball championship of 1917, the Cardinal Athletic club team defeated the Virginia Grays by the score 10 to 0. The game was more interesting than the score indicates and was well played and a clean contest throughout. "Iron Man" Jack Risdon was on the firing line for the Cardinals, and pitched a fine game, two hits being the limit allowed the Grays. Catcher Ward was the all-around star of the day, getting three clean hits. He also stole two bases, and scored three runs. "Watt" Devers, Marchant, and Owens were the other leading run- getters and played excellent baseball. "Lefty" Page, twirling for the Grays, pitched a pretty game and had his drop ball working to perfection, but timely hits made by his opponents when men were on the bases proved his Jinx. Tom Sillex covered first base for the Grays played his position in a most creditable manner. Every player on both teams played hard to win and deserve praise for the sportsmanlike way in which they conducted themselves, eliminating rodyism, and accepting the umpires decisions without protest. The umpires were fair and showed no favors and rendered their decisions in an impartial manner. The second game of the series will be played on the north Alfred street grounds next Sunday when the Virginia Grays will strive hard to win and thus even the count with the Cardinals.

Degrees will be conferred upon two candidates by Marley Encampment of Odd Fellows this evening.

Mrs. W. P. Taylor of Richmond, is visiting her sister Miss Marybury, 514 Prince street.

Mrs. C. C. Leadbeater, of 414 north Columbus street left today for Richmond.

The club is having a most prosperous year. It has a fine equipment of boats, locker room, bath, a well furnished clubroom, porches, etc. Its semi-monthly dances are a prominent feature in the social life of the city. It is now preparing its roll of honor, the same being composed of its members who have entered the army and navy and they enjoy the distinction of having proportionately more on this roll than another organization in the city.

Mrs. T. N. Eddy left today to visit friends in Twin Falk, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Henning, of South Pennsylvania, are the guests of Mrs. Henning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bayliss, in Mount Vernon district.

The Washington-Virginia Railway has been ordered by the War Department to remove its freight station and ticket office from the government reservation at the south end of the Aqueduct Bridge, to make way for the construction of the new Key bridge. The railway will re-establish its ticket office farther back on its line, but has asked the corporation commission for permission to abandon its freigtt station at Rosslyn and remove it to Thirteen and a Half and C streets, Washington, where it has a station for Alexandria freight. The matter will be heard before the corpotion commission September 26.

Mr. C. B. Swan has returned from a trip to New York City.

The Frank A. Steel Company, Inc., is the name of a new manufacturing concern which will open for business in this city tomorrow. It is a close corporation but has stockholders in Portland, Oregon, Pittsburgh, Pa., Washington, D. C., and Alexandria. Soaps for laundry and automobile use, also a floor cleaning preparation will be included in the products manufactured. The firm will manufacture for the jobbing trade exclusively and a large portion of its output has already been contracted for by Chicago New York and Baltimore houses. The city of Alexandria was selected as the home of the factory because of its central location and exceptionally fine shipping facilities. The building on north Washington street, formerly used as a cotton mill and recently as a storage warehouse, has been leased for the business for a term of years. It is expected that some fifty or more people will be employed when the new enterprise gets fully under way. The Gazette is glad to welcome the new concern among Alexandria's industries and wishes for it a full measure of success.

To the Owners of Dogs.

The General laws of the city makes it the duty of the Mayor to give public notice to the owner of dogs to procure a license for each dog owned or harbored. This license is payable to the Auditor on or before the first day of July in each year. My attention has been called to the small number of applicants this year, several hundred less than in prior years, notwithstanding the addition to our corporate lines. This makes plain the fact of a deliberate intention upon the part of many to evade the payment of this license. I herby notify all such persons to come forward on or before October 5th. next, and secure the necessary license. I will require the police force to report to the Police Court all delinquents in order that such be fined as the laws requires. It is my purpose, in so far as I can, to relentlessly follow those who are willing to have others pay and themselves remain part of a citizenship most termed "slackers."

THOMAS A. FISHER, Mayor.

ALEXANDRIA BOYS LEAVE.

As might have been supposed, there were some pathetic scenes when the members of the Alexandria Light Infantry left their homes this afternoon for Camp George B. McClellan at Anniston, Alabama. Incidents similar to those when this command left Alexandria over a year ago for the Mexican border were in evidence, and though there was no little manifestation of enthusiasm upon the part of our boys, there was an undercurrent of seriousness upon the part of the soldiers and their relatives and friends.

There was a general turnout of our people as the hour for leaving drew near. For months, or ever since the United States was forced to take up arms against Germany, the Alexandria Light Infantry has been preparing for service in the field. The command has been drilled in our streets and almost daily, their steady tread has been in evidence. While their relatives and friends, very naturally, knew that their departure was imminent, yet that fact did not seem to cast any damper upon the spirit of the Alexandria boys.

The skies had been overcast half an hour before the Alexandrians left, but while they were marching to the train the sun shone out brightly.

We read of the heroism of Spartan women and the parts they played when their men were called to arms. The spirit of those noble females rests upon the heads of Alexandria women today as the latter, by their thoughtfulness, saw that the young men of our city carried with them many reminders, as well as the earnest prayers of all as well as those to whom they are near and dear by family ties.

There was no need for our women to imitate the Spartan females by cutting off their hair for the purpose of making bowstrings for the warriors, but if that had been essential in this day our women would have doubtless shown an equally sacrificing spirit.

War has been likened to a serpent bearing beautiful spots. It pleases the eye, but is dangerous to handle. The bands discourse "The Girl I left Behind Me," at the start, but the return trip generally shows gaps in the ranks which is distressing. Let us hope this will not be the case with our noble Alexandrians, but that the nations now at war will soon be found clothed and in their right minds. Many far-seeing people express the opinion that the world conflict will end almost as soon as it was precipitate. They prefer to believe that piece kites are becoming more numrous, and while, so far, none have appeared which will be considered seriously by the nations which have rose en masse against German aims and brutality, in the near future some may be given to the wind which will afford a basis for peace talk. So mote it be!

THE "FUN" OF WAR.

The German Crown Prince several years ago was quoted as saying, "Wait until I get on the throne, and I'll have a war for the fun of it."

It is said that this degenerate of royalty preciptated the present fearful clash of arms. At any rate, the Kaiser is reported to have laid the blame at the door of his offspring.

The Crown Prince should have enough of war by this time. According to the most reliable estimates, he lost half a million men at Verdun without accomplishing his purpose, and the German casualties during the past few days on the western front have been appalling.

Dispatches from that war zone tell us that the crushed Teutons have slackened their fighting and have abandoned all attempts to gain lost Flanders positions except in the tower hamlets in the vicinity. The casualties have been on a huge scale. German prisoners tell of big losses, and captured officers admit having relinquished all hope. In the meantime the British morale is said to be at its best.

The Kaiser's subjects who have been taught that German soldiers are invincible are gradually opening their eyes to the fact that there are people in the world are worthy of their steel. The Kaiser's steam roller was clogged by Belgium at the beginning of the war, while the battle of the Marne was much more damaging to the machine. The subsequent encounters on the western front have brought no glory to Teuton arms.

TEUTONIC RAGE.

Not yet have the newspapers of Germany ceased shrieking their anger at President Wilson's suggestion that the German people free themselves from Hohenzollern oppression. The merest hint that the Germans are not sublimely satisfied with their lot is denounced as impudence. The Cleveland Plain Deabr says it is intolerable that anyone should dare imply that the people of the fatherland do not love to starve and toil and fight and die for the Hohenzollern egotists and their train of puffy, well-fed junkers. All true Teutons, if one may trust these journals, are white hot with rage over Mr. Wilson's insinuations.

But, really, one may not trust these journals. All independence of the press in Germany has been stamped out. The editorial voice is the voice of Prussianism and junkerdom. The newspapers are mere machines for distributing the inspiring bluster and mendacity of the ruling class.

Prussian humor is obtuse, but Prussianism may be unconsciously very funny. This holds true of the labored endeavors to make it appear that Woodrow Wilson is more of an autocrat than William Hohenzollern and that the German political system is more democratic than that of the United States. It is well known that no twisting of facts and logic is too difficult to be undertaken by the German casuists, but probably a harder task of this kind was never imposed on scribblers driven by the spur of subsidy or the lash of depotism.

KAISER'S DUBIOUS REPLIES.

Of course, Pope Beendict is not deceived by the buncomb handed out by the kaiser's representative as a reply to the vatican peace proposals. He realizes that when the German emperor states that he has regarded it as his "principal and most sacred task to preserve the blessings of peace for the German people and the world" that he is fourflushing again.

As the Richmond Journal observes, insincerity is stamped all over the German note. How absurd to indulge in such empty phrases when the kaiser's whole course reveals an opposite intent. There is much more of sincerity in the Austrian note, written by Emperor Charles, although it is too indefinte to provide any working basis for peace negotiations. With these dubious "replies" to the pope's well-meant efforts ends this "peace" incident, quite as expected. Not yet have the Teuton peoples learned the extent of the chicanery practiced upon them; not yet have they suffered enough in spirit to cause them to revolt at the usefulness of it all, the brutality of it all, the utter selfishness of their lords and masters. The war will go on until they are better enlightened, which will not come until the signal defeat of the German troops is accomplished. The economic pressure must keep pace with the physical hammering on all fronts. With perfest team work the ensuing year, Japan, China, Russia, Italy, France Great Britain, Portugal, South America and the United States all coordinating, the outlaw nation can be disciplined. Until it is thoroughly humbled and asks pardon of the civilized nations it has grossly outraged, peace is unthinkable.

WHY THIS WASTE?

In this day, when it is our patriotic duty to conserve in the largest measure, every product in daily use, would it not be the part of wisdom for our city school board to instruct our splendid corps of teachers, to give practical as well as theoretical instructions along those lines to the hundreds of pupils now in the schools?

Take, for instance, the matter of paper. This product is now costing practically double what it did before the war, making it much harder on the patrons to keep their children supplied with tablets, owing to the high cost of all that we now have to buy, yet, to our surprise, is noted the fact that, the children use these tablets with no more idea of economy than they did when paper was costing one-half what it does now. One side of the paper only is used and oftener the one side is not nearly used to the degree that it should be. Why this waste? Why not use both sides of the paper, and then in a more economical way?

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT

Yom Kippur to be Observed by the Jewish Race in Alexandria Beginning With Tomorrow Night.

At the setting of the sun Tuesday, September the twenty-fifth. Jewry everywhere will begin the twenty-four hours observance of the holiest day in their religious calendar. Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement) is the great Fast of Israel, for Orthodox and Reform alike, who feel the throb of Israel's historical consciousness. It is Israel's Sabbath of Sabbaths, and has a firm hold on the Jew because its noble poetry appeals to his soul, and gives voice to his faith.

Services will be held by Bethel congregation of Alexandria in their synagogue on north Washington street tomorrow evening at 7:30, at which hour Rabbi Henry J. Berkowitz of Cincinnati, Ohio, will be the officiating minister. Services will also be held on Wednesday, beginning at ten o'clock in the morning when Mr. Benedict Weil of this city will officiate.

The fundamental concepts of the Atonement are: Sin is not master of man. Man is born pure and innocent, dowered with a capacity to become Godlike. Sin is a weak will. Man can overcome sin and effect his salvation through character. The Atonement Day invites man to recognize his short comings and sins, repent by the assertion of his will, make his peace with his maker, and his fellowmen, and begin a new life, whose doings may reflect the better view and will.

God is the Father; all men are His children. "As a father pitieth his children so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him." As a child of God, man is certain of his Father's forgiving mercy. "Reliance on Him deceiveth not." "A broken and a contrite heart God will not despise." Yom Kippur offers the divine hand of forgiveness to those who humbly return to God.

In Scriptural times, the High Priest on this day made a triple atonement; "for himself, his household and for the people." This however, must not be understood in the sense of priestly mediation between God and man. The fact that the High Priest was himself compelled to make atonement for his own sins is conclusive evidence that he could not act as intercessor for the people. Man himself can effect Atonement with his Maker by breaking with his sinful past and consecrating the new life to virtue, and rectitude.

The Day of Atonement expiates sins between man and his maker, but for sins between man and man the condition precedent to atonement is the redress of the injury" (Talmud, Yoma 85, b). Man must be reconciled with the neighbor he has wronged before he can ask pardon of God.

Atonement is effected by humbling oneself before God in sincere penitence, in abstaining from all worldly pursuits and pleasures, by a day of devout devotion, and thus fully feel the grief of sin and the beauty and holiness of the correct life. "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake His way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him and unto God, for He will abundantly pardon." (Isaiah IV. 6, 7).

The devout Jew spends the entire day in the synagog. "For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand elsewhere." A memorial service in memory of the departed, including the great servants of humanity, forms an important part of the solemn atonement service.

"PEACE-LOVING FATHERLAND."

Crown Prince of Germany Wanted a Smack at French Swine.

In his "War Pictures Behind the Lines," Ian Malcolm, a well-known member of the British parliament, records a conversation he had with the German crown prince in January, 1914. Its significance lies in the fact that high German officials and publicists have repeatedly stated that the peace-loving Fatherland was compelled to take up arms against the intrigues of her enemies. Here is the actual conversation as related by Mr. Malcolm;

Crown Prince: "After all, you English people ought to be better friends with Germany than you are."

I. M.: "Sir, we are always ready to be friends as you know, but to all our overtures your chancellor replies with an invariable snub."

Crown Prince: "How can we trust you whilst you are allied with such peoples as the French or the Russians? You have nothing really in common with them, and you have nearly everything in common with us. Together, we could divide Europe and keep the peace of the world for ever."

I. M.: But how would you propose to do that; given our existing treaties, how could we break them in order to be better friends with you?"

Crown Prince: "You could shut your eyes and let us take the French colonies first of all. We want them."

Then the interview closed by my making the trite remark that nowadays nobody wanted war, which injured victors and vanquished in like degree; to which the crown prince vigorously replied:

"I beg your pardon; I want war. I want to have a smack at those French swine as soon as ever I can."

NEWS NOTES FROM DEL RAY AND ST. ELMO

Del Ray, Sept. 24.—Miss Marian Reuton who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. T. Hardin, in Del Ray, returned to her home at Seminary, Va., yesterday, accompanied by her little cousin, Ethel Hardin.

Mrs. T. B. Ellett returned to St. Elmo today after a visit of two weeks with relatives in Norfolk, Va.

Miss Mable Heisley and sister, Miss Margaret Heisley, of Williamsport, Pa., are guests of their cousin, Mrs. S. H. Feagen, in Del Ray.

Mr. Maurice Price returned yesterday to Casper, Wyoming, after a short visit in the home of his brother, Mr. Joseph Price, in Del Ray.

The usual Sunday school and preaching services were held in the M. E. Church South in the morning, with sermon by the pastor, Rev. E. F. Fielding. At night a representative audience listened to an interesting talk by Rev. John C. C. Newton, D. D., missionary and teacher from Japan. With hs opening remarks he secured the interest of the children as well as adult members as he talked of the geography, people and customs of Japan; of important events in its history; and the government of today and earlier days; dwelt on the great feeling of friendship for America, and desire to remain so. Dr. Newton also told of the eagerness of Japanese children to secure an education, and how much more interested they are in their studies then their American cousins.

At the morning service of the Baptist church the pastor Rev. W. L. Wayts, preached a good sermon on a timely topic, the text being, "Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this." At the night service he preached on the subject of "Heavenly Recognition."

Tonight at the school house there will be an important meeting of Del Ray branch of the Red Cross, being the last meeting before election of officers next month.

WOULD SHOOT TRAITORS.

Shoot the traitors in this country! This is the advice of Senator King, of Utah.

The Western Senator, whose revelations of the machinations of the Austro-Hungarian Embassy so stirred Congress, said yesterday:

"The only thing to do is to go ahead and expose this crowd of pacifists, cowards, spineless degenerates and treacherous individuals that have thronged the country.

"They should be thrown into public contempt. And if it is found that they have been absolute traitors they should be put against the wall and a firing squad brought into action without delay."

NEWS OF THE DAY

Sweden is on the verge of a ministerial crisis. The causes are threefold, namely, the elections, the results of the Buenos Aires telegram revelations and the fact that Germany has not yet given a satisfactory answer to Sweden's demand for a full explanation of the Count von Luxburg affair.

The arrest of five men high in political and police circles in Philadelphia within the next twenty hours is anticipated as a result of the sensational disclosures of crime and debauchery in the Fifth ward. Mayor Smith is under $10,000 bail on the charge of conspiracy as a result of the murder of Policeman George A. Eppley in the "Bloody Fifth" last Wednesday. The five men marked for arrest are said to have been named in the confession made by one of the four alleged gunmen arrested in New York as their employes and men who aided them.

With William J. Burns detective and several physicians as witnesses, the body of Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, widow of Henry F. Flagler was disinterred last Tuesday morning at Wilmington, North Carolina, Cemetery. At an autopsy immediately held in the presence of the detective, physicians and the Wilmington health officer, the vital organs were removed and sent to New York for examination.

Denial last night by A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, of the Department of Justice, of many of the phases of the so called dynamite plot to wreck the water pipes running from Great Falls to Washington which were published yesterday, established the general belief last week that the alleged plot never existed.

E. E. Weir, former president of Lebanon College for Women, at Lebanon, Tenn. and Edward Drake, a youth of Oklahoma City, were killed when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an interurban car near Oklahoma City.

Cadorna's forces made progress Saturday night at seevral points on the Julian battle front. In the Bainsizza plateau the Austrians, after violent artillery preparation, repeatedly attacked the Italian positions in the region of Kal and west of Volnik, but were repulsed.

Knocked down during a playful scuffle with a friend at Thirty-sixth street and Prospect avenue northwest Washington, yesterday, Harry Moulden struck his head on the curbstone and died last night at Georgetown Hospital. Raymond Brown who, the police say, pushed Moulden, gave himself up as soon as he heard his companion was dead. He is being held pending a coroner's inquest.

Approximately 21,000 white and negro union longshoremen, on strike in New Orleans, since last Wednesday, at a meeting yesterday voted to return work at wage increases already agreed upon and to settle "all other differences" at a conference today with stevedores.

The German military authorities at Bruges, Belgium, are conscripting forcibly all the boys and men of that city between the ages of 14 and 60 to work in munition factories and shipyards. The rich and poor, shopkeepers and workmen, all are being taken, only the school teachers, doctors, and priests escaping. The Germans virtually conducted raids in the city, according to reports received here, seizing men in their homes, in the streets and in all public places. The provincial committee has been ordered by the Germans to release 75 per cent of its staff.

How Germany "shamefully abused and exploited" the protection of the United States by secreting in the German legation at Bucharest, after the American government had taken charge of Germany's affairs at the Roumanian capital, quantities of powerful explosives for bomb plots and deadly microbes, with instructions for their use in destroying horses and cattle, was revealed yesterday by Secretary Lansing.

A temporary settlement of the strike of 25,000 iron workers, which for the past week has held up work on about $125,000,000 worth of government ships and aeroplanes in the San Francisco district, was reached after a six-hour conference between representatives of the twenty-five unions involved, and the shipbuilders. The men will return to work not later than Thursday.

Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, commander of the German army on the northern end of the Western front, according to a dispatch from Munich, has issued an order that the first American officer captured on his front shall be taken immediately to his headquarters.

A British destroyer has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the approaches to the channel.

Dr. Michaelis, the German imperial chancellor, will discuss the Belgian question and German peace conditions in a speech next Thursday. The chancellor will declare that Germany is ready to re-establish Belgian independence if the entente powers agree to restore the German colonies and to give up "their policy of territorial and economic conquest."

Three persons were killed yesterday afternoon when the Buffalo Flier of the Pennsylvania Railroad, bound for Washington, struck an automobile.

Four persons were killed and another was seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train at a crossing near Fort Worth, Texas, late yesterday.

Frank P. Hall, whose determined fight several years ago to have the excise board renew his liquor license at 1000 Seventh street southwest Washington, after it had been revoked, was arrested last night charged with operating an uncicensed car. According to Lieut. Conlon, a group of men were gathered around tables in Hall's place, which has been running as a near-beer establishment when the police entered through a side door. Conlon said a quantity of beer and whisky was found in the place. Hall was taken to the station house, where he left $800 for his appearance in police court today.

The lower portion of Presidio, Texas, was flooded Saturday and several adobe houses collapsed. High water from the Rio Grande invaded the town Saturday. Major H. W. Parker, yesterday had his force assisting families to move out of their falling houses.

British naval air squadrons continue to make bombing raids on military establishments in Belgium. An official statement issued yesterday by the admiralty says: "On Friday night our naval aircraft carried out bombing raids on the Thourout and Cortemarck railway stations. The Thourout station and lines were hit and a fire resulted. At Cortemarck the station and other buildings were set on fire. Bombs were dropped on the docks at Ostend on Saturday. All our machines safely returned."

The island of Jamaica was struck by a hurricane yesterday for the third time in as many years. The gale was not of excessive violence in Kingston and no damage was done to buildings. No details are available from the interior of the island as all the telephone and telegraph wires are down. It is feared that the banana crop has been damaged seriously.

Baltimore, Sept. 24.—Albert Franklin and John Wagner of Benfield, Anne Arundel county, had a narrow escape form serious injuries yesterday when an automobile in which they were returning from Baltimore struck a cow on the Annapolis Boulevard, at the entrance to Holy Cross Cemetery, and turned turtle.

The machine was going about 25 miles an hour, when the cow came out of the cemetery gate and started across the boulevard. The men did not see the animal until too late and the car crashed into her. The cow was turned around and shoved to one side of the road and the machine turned over.

HUNS CUT TO PIECES

Paris, Sept. 14.—Stories of frightful German loses in the third battle of Flanders continue to come from the Ypres front. Correspondents who saw the Verdun slaughter and witnessed the Somme fighting assert the Teuton cost of life in those drives were nothing compared to the days ago.

Just now the fighting east and southeast has simmered down to local trench warfare. In this pause there is plenty of opportunity to observe the ghastly evidence in "No Man's Land." German bodies are literally heaped between the British and German trenches, front dispatches state.

In a field hospital installed in an immense shell hole," writes Andre Tudesq, in Le Journal, "I saw all Anzac corporal who had just returned across the old German second line. Near Inverness Copse, he said, everywhere lay dead Germans. He saw one heap with not a single whole body. All were mangled pieces."

All reports from the front confirm the first stories of the earth shaking effect of the British artillery bombardments.

"The noise was so infernal," M. DeFenquieres, writing in Le Petit Parisien, quotes an Australian as saying, "that I couldn't hear the machine gun near us. In front we could see nothing but dense clouds of smoke from the shells and advanced blindly. The few Germans we saw, dazed and terrified after having escaped miraculously the hell of this battle, put up their hands and staggered to our lines."

BERLIN DECRIES NOTE

Sends Message of Conciliation to Argentine Chamber of Deputies.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 24.—Just as the Argentine Chamber of Deputies was preparing to vote on the question of breaking diplomatic relations with Germany, an official communication was received from the Berlin Foreign Office.

The note disapproved of the ideas expressed by Count von Luxburg, the German Minister here, regarding Germany's "cruiser warfare."

The words "cruiser" leaves some doubt as to whether Germany intends to modify her submarine campaign.

However, a declaration of war by Argentina on Germany has been postponed.

A general strike of 200,000 railroad workers went into effect yesterday. The managers of the road declare that to grant the increase demanded by the men would involve a 75 per cent increase in rates. Union officials say that they will not go back to work until their demands are met.

It is rumored that German intrigue is behind the strike movement and that the Teutons are backing the walk-out. The rumor is credited, owing to the abundance of money among the strikers.

It is probable that martial law will be declared today.

DENIES AIDING ENVOY

Swedish Minister Says Von Bernstorff Letter Was Not Moved by Him.

Washington, Sept. 24.—W. A. F. Ekengren, Swedish Minister to the United States, had a lengthy conference with Secretary of State Lansing Saturday. Yesterday he authorized the following statement:

"I am positive that the Bernstorff letter never passed through my legation."

It was learned that the Swedish legation here for some time did permit the German legation to use its diplomatic wires. This practice, however, was stopped at the request of Minister Ekengren some time before Bernstorff was sent from the country and some time before the Bernstorff letter asking for $50,000 for the corruption of the United States Congress was sent.

The State Department, it became known yesterday, was able to trace this letter from almost the moment it left Von Bernstorff's hands until it came into the hands of the persons who gave it to Secretary Lansing. It could not be learned whether it had actually reached Berlin.

BARRED PERIODICALS.

Watson Gives up Fight to Get Anti-Draft Papers Into Mails.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Thomas E. Watson has decided to suspend publication of the Jeffersonian and the Thomson Guard, abandon his appeal of the case resulting in the Jeffersonian being barred from the mails and not to further press the case of the Guard, in connection with the publication of which he was instructed to appear before the postal authorities in Washington today, according to announcement here last night of J. Gordon Jones, one of Watson's attorneys.

After Federal Judge Speer had upheld the validity of the draft law in declaring Watson's Jeffersonian unfit for second class mail privileges, Watson bought the Guard, a small weekly published at Thompson. After he had given notice of appealing the Jeffersonian case postal authorities began investigating the Guard.

Watson has consistently opposed the selective draft and his utterances in the Jeffersonian were declared in Judge Speer's opinion seditious.
